EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—At your request I will say a few words on the coming election. It is time the people of this city would wake to the fact that the mayor, whoever he may be, is not elected in his own interest or the interest of ANY PARTY, but for the good of the ENTIRE CITY. It is not clear as to what are the claims of the present administration upon the voters for re-election. I have not heard of any good accomplished by the present mayor to warrant us in voting to return the same for a third term. Two terms ought to be enough to right some of the most flagrant wrongs. But instead of things getting better they are rapidly getting worse. If I am any judge, I am told that the saloons and liquor people are for the present mayor for re-election. Now I have no disposition to treat any one unfairly. I want that we shall look each other straight in the eyes and be candid. So I ask the present mayor to prove to us that he has in the past accomplished good in the city to warrant him in asking for our votes. I ask him also to prove, if he can, that he is not the candidate of the saloon people? I ask him if he is not the candidate, at least tacitly, of the saloon people? Why is there so much open drunkenness on our streets. I have seen twice as much drunkenness in this city of late as I have seen in any city I was ever in in the same length of time. The obscene show bills posted of late in prominent places in our city have been a disgrace, to say the least. I do not know what the law is on this point, but surely it has had no attention from the mayor. Many other things might be mentioned. But let us wait for a direct answer to these.

If this is a temperance fight let us know it. As taxpayers, as citizens, and as parents, we have a right to know. Surely the present mayor will not object to tell us EXACTLY WHERE HE STANDS. We should know BEFORE NOT AFTER the election. Let us know before the election if the saloon power is to rule and the powers of evil to hold sway provided the present mayor is returned to office. And let the explanation be based on his past record. Now let us know beyond the shadow of doubt. Solomon was wiser than most of us and it was he who said: "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." We owe to our children, to ourselves, to our neighbors, to our God, the best city government we can have. There is a ticket in the field which is pledged to temperance. That is the one safe and abiding principle greatly needed in this city at the present time. Shall our homes be overbalanced by the saloons? Let us make a mistake. General Sherman once engaged a cavalry division to follow him over the mountains. So he asked one man how near he could drive to the precipice without going over. The man said, "a foot." "How near can you?" he asked another. "Six inches," was the answer. "How near can you?" he asked of another. "Sir," said he, "I'll keep just as far away as possible." And the wise general said: "YOU ARE THE MAN I WANT." Every consideration demands on April 4 an overwhelming majority of votes for the man who WILL KEEP AS FAR AWAY AS POSSIBLE FROM THE PRECIPICE. Let us do our duty heartily as unto God and not unto man.

FATHER SMYTHE

Speaks Ringing Words of Wisdom and Warning.

Father Smythe, of St. Aloysius Catholic church, was personally interviewed by Captain Palmer at the Rectory, Fifth street, Friday morning, and gave the following:

"I am in favor of clean and pure government. I stand for the enforcement of law and order. We have had no government in this city of East Liverpool for the past two years. I have personally witnessed much evil and lawlessness, and have information along the same line from persons of reliability, evidence which cannot be successfully contradicted. Houses of ill fame have been permitted to carry on their infamous work. Gamblers have held high carnival. Slot machines have been run openly. Horse racing has taken place on the Sabbath day, on many occasions, on our most public thoroughfares, and all this unrestrained by the law, despite the fact that the present mayor and his subordinates were well acquainted with this horrid condition of affairs. No this horrid condition of affairs. No man, no matter what his political faith may be, can have my support for mayor of this city and permit such lawlessness, crime and disorder as has held full sway under the official life of the present mayor. I am opposed to all lawlessness, sin, crime and disorder and in favor of clean and pure municipal government.

THOMAS M. SMYTHE.

DR. J. M. HUSTON.

He Addressed an Immense Audience Last Night. D. J. M. Huston, pastor of the First M. E. church, addressed an immense audience last night, March 27th. He read, as a scripture lesson, part of the 23d and 24th chapters of Proverbs, commencing with the 29th verse of the 23d chapter: "Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

The speaker then said that he was heartily in favor of holding an all day prayer meeting during the present week, praying for the souls which are in great danger of being lost, in case the present administration is continued in power in East Liverpool for another two years.

The announcement was made that Dr. Huston will exchange pulpits with Reverend Reager, of Wellsville, next Sunday. Reverend Reager is an earnest and deadly foe of the saloon and the liquor traffic, and he will handle the subject without gloves. He is an able and eloquent speaker and our readers should not fail to hear him.

Dr. Huston then took as his subject for the evening the 32d verse of the 23d chapter of Proverbs, as follows:

"At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

Space forbids a full and complete report, but the eloquent speaker said in part:

"The ministers of this city are compelled to visit the sick and suffering and sorrowful and distressed, and thus see much of the awful horrors consequent upon the rum traffic and the drink habit. The TRUE minister of the gospel of Jesus Christ is watching upon the tower, and if he fails to warn the people, God will hold him to a strict accountability, and the blood of the people will be upon his hands. 'Woe unto the man who putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips to make him drunken' does not apply alone to the saloonist. It applies equally to the voter who casts his ballot in favor of the saloon keeper's candidate. God says this—it is not merely my assertion. The serpent, the horned viper, the devil in disguise, is lurking on our streets and along our public thoroughfares. His horns are sticking out of the saloon doors of East Liverpool. You can smell his venomous and damnable breath as you pass by. I do not brand the saloon as a viper, an adder or a basilisk. I brand it as a devil; a treacherous, slimy, infamous devil, with the saloonkeeper and barkeeper dealing out death and damnation from behind the bar; and I summon this horrible devil to come before the bar of God for trial.

"Can I prove alcohol to be a devil? Yea, verily, I can. Not by the comparatively weak tests of experience and opinions, but by the absolutely sure test which science applies. Science, beyond successful contradiction, beyond the shadow of a doubt, demonstrates the fact that alcohol is vile beyond description and flushing; the second and third caused still greater trouble and inflammation, and drinking to drunkenness caused the poor stomach to become almost black. Ulcers will form on the stomach of a drunkard. The stomach of a man who died while under the influence of delirium tremens was found to be an awful mass of gangrene and corruption. The action of alcohol has so bloated infant children as to make them repulsive to the eyes of even a loving and tender-hearted mother.

"The healthy sober man has his heart in magnificent condition, the muscular tissues causing it to do its work even more nicely and truly than a perfectly regulated piece of machinery. The alcohol drinker or drunkard has a fatty heart, burdened with flabby muscular power, inadequate to perform the duties devolving upon it, and he drops dead with heart disease, or is found dead in his bed.

"A man in one of our cities staggered and fell backward over some obstacle, breaking one of the small bones in his back. It was not necessarily a fatal injury, and the hospital physicians made preparations to perform an operation, when it was discovered that he had been drinking heavily and his case was at once pronounced hopeless. Cholera and like diseases find the alcohol drinker and the drunkard easy victims.

"The past two years in East Liverpool, under the present mayor, have been simply awful. A minister of this city said to me that upon last Sunday he had seen more drunkards upon our streets than ever before upon any Sunday in the history of his acquaintance in the city. Ladies living in the suburbs have stated that they are afraid to come to church on Sunday nights on account of the drunken men staggering along the streets and alleys. Members of my church have reported to me that they have heard the clinking of glasses in saloons on Sunday nights, when going home from church.

"In the name of God, what kind of an administration are we living under? What kind of an administration have we had for the past two years?

"Joseph's bloody coat was taken to his father, and the decision was reached that an evil beast had killed his boy. Surely, men of East Liverpool, fathers and mothers, an evil beast is lurking around and about, eager to kill and devour your children, body and soul.

"Next Monday week, God willing, we will spring the trap and catch this insatiate devil, and then listen to his roaring and finally kill him.

"I'd like to see how many of this grand congregation will vote in favor of having this devil trapped and defeated on the 4th of April, 1898. I'll let the women vote tonight. All in favor of the demon's trapping and defeat, please rise to your feet."

And then ensued a grand sight in favor of law and order and clean government in this city of East Liverpool, as the entire congregation rose with but a few exceptions, the pastor thanking God for the glorious uprising and calling for the rendering of "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," the grand old doxology being sung in a manner which demonstrated that the hearts of the people had been thrilled and made glad with the hope of the coming of clean and pure government, through the enforcement of law and order.

DR. HUSTON SPEAKS.

He Urges Christian Women to Organize For Battle.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—May I be permitted to add a word to what the other ministers are saying in behalf of good government. The curse of this whole business—the violation of law; the selling of liquors on Sunday; selling to minors and habituals; the evil example of officials visiting saloons—falls first and most heavily upon women.

Whenever the temperance women, conscious of the great wrongs of their kind, have organized against these evils and have declared their wrongs from the house tops, those having the elective franchise have respected their petitions. All men who have the memory of a mother's sacrifices and love have been brought to consider what they owe to humanity, and their responsibility to their mother's God.

The thoughtless say the women are no authority in this matter; they cannot vote; but the wives, the mothers the sisters are the power behind the throne, and by asserting themselves they can give victory. History confirms this.

What Is the Nature of the Mayoralty Contest?

Don't be misled. The battle is simply for the enforcement or non-enforcement of the laws and ordinances now controlling the city of East Liverpool. One of the questions is:

Will the Saloonists Obey the Law?

If they obey existing laws, then are they lawabiding citizens, and they will be protected by the law. If they will not obey, then they deserve punishment, hot and swift. The next question is:

Will the Mayor Enforce the Law?

Mayor Gilbert has demonstrated the fact that he will not. He faithfully and solemnly promised to do so, previous to his election, and made oath to that effect. Note the result. Drunkenness, gambling, slot machines, houses of ill fame and lawlessness in general have held almost open sway, to the everlasting disgrace of the mayor and the city. In the name of honor, purity, truth, law and clean government, vote for

"The devil was let loose in East Liverpool on last Sunday. He has been loose in this city on very many Sundays during the past two years. He has been seeking whom he might devour. I have heard that he was after me, and I remained at home today in order to meet him, in case he saw fit to call upon me. 'How to catch the devil, or cripple him,' will be my theme tonight. The question at issue in this city is very clearly and distinctly defined and divided. There can be no mistake. The municipal battle is right against wrong; righteousness against unrighteousness. The question, tersely and concisely put, is:

'Shall the saloon element obey the law?'

"It has been proven, by the press, the people and the ministers, that the law has been constantly broken and defied by the saloon element under the present administration. Shall we have a government controlled by law, or a government which has no respect for law? The whisky element has been cunning indeed, and it has worked out its evil purposes by dividing and splitting the temperance forces. They have put up candidates in either party to suit the occasion or the emergency. I want to say, right here, that you are not compelled to obey the devil simply because you voted for him at the primaries. You would better vote at the coming election under the influence of an awakened and enlightened conscience, and thus please God. If the temperance candidate on your ticket had been nominated at the primaries, how many whisky men or saloonists would have voted for him? Not a single one. On the voyage, it was discovered that some of the sailors were drunk. This is a serious offense on an English man-of-war, and the matter was carefully investigated, a drunken sailor finally blurring out that 'they had tapped the old admiral.' Horrible, wasn't it. And yet, I tell you that the alcohol contained in the wines served upon fashionable tables is even more vile and nasty, and I tell you this upon the very highest scientific authority. And you and I must yield to science and scientific proof. Science says that the earth is round, and I am forced to believe science. Science says that the earth revolves around the sun, and I am compelled to believe science. Science says that not a particle of alcohol can be digested in the human stomach. Nature rebels against the horrible stuff and drives it out of the system through the pores, the breath and other side avenues; but not a particle of the nasty stuff can be digested. Alcohol never imparts strength or the power to endure heat or cold. It destroys the stomach. A man was so wounded as to permit science to see his stomach performing its work. The test of the action of alcohol was shown. The first drink caused redness

COLLECTED IN ADVANCE

Now the People Are Looking For Their Pictures.

WORKED A VERY OLD GAME

But It Seems to Have Had the Desired Effect, and Two Young Men Left This Vicinity With Much More Money Than Enough to Cover Expenses.

There are a number of people in the city and vicinity who believe they are the victims of two smart young men.

Not long ago the parties in question canvassed the city selling pictures. They promised an excellent likeness of the victim, but asked a portion of the purchase price in advance. In some cases it was readily produced, for the inducements were great, and the men left town with their pockets well lined, promising to return with the pictures in a few days.

A number of people were looking for them last Saturday, as the time for delivery has passed and they are beginning to realize the manner in which they were caught. Local picture agents are indignant, because the matter will tend to injure their business, and if the strangers are caught it can be safely said that they will be vigorously prosecuted.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Geary, who have been visiting many relatives in Toronto this week, left this morning to visit their daughter at East Liverpool, and from thence will return to their home at Mimico, Ontario, where Mr. Geary is the superintendent of a large sewer pipe shop.—Toronto Tribune.

Made Another Offer.

It was stated Saturday evening that Christian Metch had made to the Pennsylvania Railroad company an offer to sell his property at a lower price than was first quoted. There was a reduction of $5,000 in the offer, but the first price he asked the company could not be learned.

THE REPORT PRESENTED TO CONGRESS

The President Submits the Findings In the Maine Disaster With a Message.

BLOWN UP BY A MINE.

The Board of Inquiry Says That Caused the Explosion.

COULD NOT FIX RESPONSIBILITY.

The Discipline Aboard the Maine Was Excellent and the Explosion Could Not Have Occurred From Internal Causes. McKinley Still Firm In His Policy to End the Hostilities In Cuba—Will Send a Message Asking an Appropriation For the Destitute Cubans—Assistant Secretary of State Receives a Call From the Spanish Minister—Many Cabinet Officers Visited the White House and Discussed the Situation—Congress Not Likely to Do Much Business Outside of the Cuban Question.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—President McKinley has sent the report of the board of Maine inquiry to both houses of congress with a brief message. An abstract of the report is as follows:

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Your correspondent presents herewith a complete abstract of the court of inquiry which investigated the wrecking of the battleship Maine. This abstract is made from the report itself, access to which was obtained despite the official secrecy unparalleled in the handling of official papers.

The report is made up of eight parts as follows:

"First—The court finds at the time of the explosion the battleship Maine was lying in five and one-half to six fathoms of water.

"Second—The discipline aboard the ship was excellent; everything stowed according to orders—ammunition, guns, stores, etc. The temperature of the magazines at 8 p. m. was normal, except in the after 10-inch magazine, and that did not explode.

"Third—The explosion occurred at 9:40 o'clock on the evening of Feb. 15. There were two explosions with a very short interval between them; the ship lifted on the first explosion.

"Fourth—The court can form no definite opinion of the condition of the wreck from the divers' evidence.

"Fifth—Technical details of wreckage from which court deduces that a mine was exploded under the ship on the port side.

"Sixth—The explosion was due to no fault of those on board.

"Seventh—Opinion of the court stating that the explosion of the mine caused the explosion of the two magazines.

"Eighth—The court declares that it cannot find evidence to fix responsibility."

The report is unanimous and is signed by all the members of the court. It does not refer to the existence or non-existence of mines in the harbor of Havana, except in the specific finding that a mine was exploded under the ship and the opinion that the explosion of the two magazines was caused by the explosion of a mine.

The report as a whole is a formal dispassionate recital of facts and bears the stamp of that strict officialism which marks naval procedure. It is brief, not exceeding 1,800 words, and among the eight parts goes to the greatest length under the second heading, which deals with the discipline and order of the ship.

This court specifies with extreme minuteness, the least detail of the satisfactory condition of everything on board being given. The normal temperature of the large forward magazines at 8 o'clock—only 1 hour and 40 minutes before the explosion—disposes of the question of accidental combustion within these magazines. While the court holds that these magazines did not explode from internal causes, they nevertheless are of the opinion that the explosion of the Maine under the port side of the ship caused the explosion of two magazines. This will explain the remarkable destruction wrought, the explosion thus being shown to have combined the force of a mine without and two magazines within. The two explosions which the court finds to have occurred, with a very short interval between them, is an additional detail showing that two forces operated in causing the destruction. The finding that the ship lifted on the first explosion indicates an external source and one of tremendous power to be able to lift a battleship of 3,500 tons.

The character of the wreckage, technically described in the fifth part of the report from which the court deduces that a mine was exploded under the port side sustains the view taken by some experts shortly after the disaster that the force of the explosion was exerted from port to starboard.

The feature of the report of deepest interest to the navy is the complete exoneration of Captain Sigsbee and all on board contained in the second finding, setting forth the perfect order and discipline prevailing on the ship and more directly stated in the sixth finding, which declares that the disaster to be due to no fault of those on board.

The inability of the court to find evidence to fix responsibility, as stated in the eighth part, makes the report so guarded in expression of blame that neither Spain nor the Spanish are mentioned throughout.

REPORT RECEIVED BY THE SENATE.

Will Be Referred to a Committee—Senator Money to Make a Speech on the Cuban Horrors.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The important event of the week in the senate was the president's message transmitting the report on the Maine court of inquiry. The report will be referred to the committee on foreign relations and sent to the printer without being read or more than incidentally referred to, and that after this nothing more will be said concerning it until the committee shall have had a reasonable opportunity to consider it or until some further communication may be reached from the president on the Cuban question.

There has been a general appeal from the administration to the senate to avoid undue agitation of the Cuban subject until the president can have an opportunity to formulate a policy, and the senate appears quite disposed to comply with the request. Still there is no doubt that the senate would grow very restive under delay. Senator Money expects to make a speech on the lines of those of Senators Proctor, Gallinger and Thurston, based upon his observations in Cuba.

What further discussion there may be during the week of the Cuban situation will depend so largely upon future developments that it is useless to discuss the probabilities. If the president should make a recommendation or the committee on foreign relations a report the senate at once would become the center of an animated discussion, the result of which would be some radical declaration against Spain. The problem now is to hold the expression of opinion down to the minimum pending the negotiations of the president and the deliberations of the committee.

It may be said in a general way, however, that Cuba will occupy almost the entire thought, if it is not the subject of the speech of the senate for the week, and while it may be possible to practically suppress audible reference to the subject, it is most likely to find opportunity for some vent. This opportunity will probably be afforded on a resolution for the appropriation of money to relieve the distress of the Cuban reconcentrados.

The sundry civil appropriation bill probably will be reported to the senate and taken up for consideration.

THE HOUSE SCENE

WAS DRAMATIC.

Very Few Vacant Seats When the Maine Report Was Received—Large Crowd of Visitors Present.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The largest crowd which has attended a session of congress in years was at the capitol when the official report of the board of inquiry on the Maine disaster was given to the country. Extra instructions have been issued to the attendants and admission to the reserved galleries was strictly by card. Not one-tenth of the people who stormed the doors gained admission. The members of the house awaited the report with the same feverish anxiety the public manifests, and there was not a dozen vacant seats on the floor. The scene when the report was read was intensely dramatic, but those who went to the capitol expecting to see its presentation followed by a furor of oratory were sorely disappointed. The report and accompanying message were brief, and, after being read, was referred to the committee on foreign affairs without debate.

Mr. Hitt of Illinois, chairman of the foreign affairs committee will be recognized by the speaker to make this motion. The motion is not debatable. It was the wish of the president, as expressed to the leaders of both parties, that this course be followed and the program has been acquiesced in by all irrespective of party.

Once in committee the finding of the board will remain there until the report is made by the committee, which will certainly not be until Spain's explanation and position are made known to the administration.

Meantime the precipitation of the Maine issue between Spain and the United States is likely to throw the Maine disaster, which the administration intends to deal with as a separate and distinct issue, into the background as a subject for future settlement, unless Spain should take a position, not now anticipated, which would compel immediate action.

Wednesday the president probably will transmit a message asking for an appropriation to relieve the starving in Cuba.

COLLECTED IN ADVANCE

Now the People Are Looking For Their Pictures.

WORKED A VERY OLD GAME

But It Seems to Have Had the Desired Effect, and Two Young Men Left This Vicinity With Much More Money Than Enough to Cover Expenses.

There are a number of people in the city and vicinity who believe they are the victims of two smart young men.

Not long ago the parties in question canvassed the city selling pictures. They promised an excellent likeness of the victim, but asked a portion of the purchase price in advance. In some cases it was readily produced, for the inducements were great, and the men left town with their pockets well lined, promising to return with the pictures in a few days.

A number of people were looking for them last Saturday, as the time for delivery has passed and they are beginning to realize the manner in which they were caught. Local picture agents are indignant, because the matter will tend to injure their business, and if the strangers are caught it can be safely said that they will be vigorously prosecuted.

TIMMY TWADDLE DEAD

He Passed Suddenly Away
Saturday Night.

WAS ILL LESS THAN A WEEK

The Well Known Outfielder of the Auburn Base Ball Team Was Stricken by Pneumonia—Arrangements For the Funeral
Have Been Made.

Thomas Twaddle died Saturday night
at his home in West End from pneumonia.

Deceased was taken ill Tuesday morning with a chill and became rapidly worse, and during his last hours was delirious. His mother was visiting down the river when the end came. During his illness he arose twice and dressed himself and started out before he was caught. The baseball boys were very attentive during his illness, and did all in their power to prolong his life.

Twaddle was born in this city, and had he lived until Wednesday would have been 25 years of age.

During his early years he spent much time on the West End ball diamond,
and gave promise of becoming a splendid ball player. He played several years with the local team, and in 1896
finished the season with the Niles team, a semi-professional club,
where he did first class work.
Early in 1897 he signed a contract with the Auburn team of the New York State League, and played the entire season
in left field, leading the league in fielding and standing near the top in hitting.
At the close of the season he signed a contract for this year and expected to leave here April 20. It was acknowledged in baseball circles that he had a brilliant future, and in time promised to rival Curt Welch in his palmist days.

His many friends who played ball with him, and had learned to love his genial ways, upon hearing of his death
at once started a subscription paper to defray the expenses of his funeral. As an evidence of the esteem in which he was held, there was not a person who refused to give liberally, and by last evening $80 had been collected.

He could neither read nor write, as he had no advantages during his early days, but last winter he spent in going to school in an endeavor to fit him for the duties of life.

It has been many years since the death
of any person has caused such an expression of sympathy on the part of the residents of this city. Twaddle was a genial, big hearted young man with a kindly word for every one, beloved and respected by his comrades, and was one of the most popular ball players that ever wore a uniform in this city. His appearance in a base ball game was always greeted with applause, and wherever he went he made friends by the score.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the West End chapel, of which Sunday school he was a member. The pallbearers will be selected from his associates. Interment will be made at Spring Grove.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral of Lawrence Elmer, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold, took place this afternoon from the residence. The services were largely attended, Rev. S. B. Salmon, officiating.
Interment at Riverview.

A Quilting Bee.

An all day quilting bee will be given in the First M. E. church next Wednesday by the Women's Foreign Missionary society. The bee will be held in the lecture room.

Largely Attended.

The class meetings at the First M. E.
church continue, and are largely attended. The interest taken is unabated, and much good is resulting from the meetings.

Finished the Plans.

The plans for the remodeling of the home of Charles Risinger, in Starkey lane, have been completed. Work will be commenced this week.

Completed the Line.

The telephone company Saturday afternoon completed the new telephone line for the Ohio Valley Gas company
to their fields in Black Hawk.

Greatly Improved.

The condition of Frank Oyster, of some days from the effects of hemorrhage, is greatly improved.

A RISING FAMILY.

They Live In a House Whose Four Corners
Posts Are Growing Spruce Trees.

Bangor, Me., has an eight cornered house, a house shaped like a piece of pie, a house with no front door and a half house, one side having been burned
off. But the queerest dwelling in all Maine is in the town of Dennyville, Washington county. It was built about six years ago by a poor man, who was obliged to go to the edge of the woods,
where land was cheap, for his lot and utilized the trunks of four big spruce trees, that formed a square of 16 feet,
for the corner posts.

Pretty soon the poor man went west
to make his fortune, leaving his family behind in the queer house. In five years he returned as poor as when he left.
He found that in the meanwhile his family had risen in the world. The four live corner posts had just grown up about four feet and carried the house with them. It is a good, solid house, but unless the trees stop growing the man will soon need a fire escape ladder
instead of the plank steps that now lead up to the door.—New York Sun.

Speaker Reed's Ink Tray.

Before the house assembles each day
there is placed on the speaker's desk a box shaped tray of solid silver. Promptly after the house adjourns it is taken back to the speaker's room. It contains three small bottles—one for red ink,
one for black ink and one for sand, such as was used in early days for drying
ink, before the time of blotting paper.
The ink tray is part of the furniture of the speaker's room and has more than ordinary interest, for it was used by Henry Clay when he occupied the speaker's chair.—Washington Post.

Insane From Riding an Avalanche.

Joe Bradley, the unfortunate prospector who rode an avalanche down
Pike's peak on Dec. 20, was arrested at Florence as an escaped lunatic and returned to the Pueblo asylum the other

TIMMY TWADDLE DEAD

He Passed Suddenly Away
Saturday Night.

WAS ILL LESS THAN A WEEK

The Well Known Outfielder of the Auburn Base Ball Team Was Stricken by Pneumonia—Arrangements For the Funeral Have Been Made.

Thomas Twaddle died Saturday night at his home in West End from pneumonia.

Deceased was taken ill Tuesday morning with a chill and became rapidly worse, and during his last hours was delirious. His mother was visiting down the river when the end came. During his illness he arose twice and dressed himself and started out before he was caught. The baseball boys were very attentive during his illness, and did all in their power to prolong his life.

Twaddle was born in this city, and had he lived until Wednesday would have been 25 years of age.

During his early years he spent much time on the West End ball diamond, and gave promise of becoming a splendid ball player. He played several years with the local team, and in 1896 finished the season with the Niles team, a semi-professional club, where he did first class work. Early in 1897 he signed a contract with the Auburn team of the New York State League, and played the entire season in left field, leading the league in fielding and standing near the top in hitting. At the close of the season he signed a contract for this year and expected to leave here April 20. It was acknowledged in baseball circles that he had a brilliant future, and in time promised to rival Curt Welch in his palmist days.

His many friends who played ball with him, and had learned to love his genial ways, upon hearing of his death at once started a subscription paper to defray the expenses of his funeral. As an evidence of the esteem in which he was held, there was not a person who refused to give liberally, and by last evening $80 had been collected.

He could neither read nor write, as he had no advantages during his early days, but last winter he spent in going to school in an endeavor to fit him for the duties of life.

It has been many years since the death of any person has caused such an expression of sympathy on the part of the residents of this city. Twaddle was a genial, big hearted young man with a kindly word for every one, beloved and respected by his comrades, and was one of the most popular ball players that ever wore a uniform in this city. His appearance in a base ball game was always greeted with applause, and wherever he went he made friends by the score.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the West End chapel, of which Sunday school he was a member. The pallbearers will be selected from his associates. Interment will be made at Spring Grove.

Laid to Rest.

A RISING FAMILY.

They Live In a House Whose Four Corner Posts Are Growing Spruce Trees.

Bangor, Me., has an eight cornered house, a house shaped like a piece of pie, a house with no front door and a half house, one side having been burned off. But the queerest dwelling in all Maine is in the town of Dennysville, Washington county. It was built about six years ago by a poor man, who was obliged to go to the edge of the woods, where land was cheap, for his lot and utilized the trunks of four big spruce trees, that formed a square of 16 feet, for the corner posts.

Pretty soon the poor man went west to make his fortune, leaving his family behind in the queer house. In five years he returned as poor as when he left. He found that in the meanwhile his family had risen in the world. The four live corner posts had just grown up about four feet and carried the house with them. It is a good, solid house, but unless the trees stop growing the man will soon need a fire escape ladder instead of the plank steps that now lead up to the door.—New York Sun.

Speaker Reed's Ink Tray.

Before the house assembles each day there is placed on the speaker's desk a box shaped tray of solid silver. Promptly after the house adjourns it is taken back to the speaker's room. It contains three small bottles—one for red ink, one for black ink and one for sand, such as was used in early days for drying ink, before the time of blotting paper. The ink tray is part of the furniture of the speaker's room and has more than ordinary interest, for it was used by Henry Clay when he occupied the speaker's chair.—Washington Post.

FOR MAYOR.

[In the Interest of Law, Order and Clean Government.]

X CHARLES F. BOUGH.

Subject to the Decision of All Good Citizens, irrespective of Party Affiliations.

WHAT FEAR THEY?

Why is the whisky ring afraid of
 Charles F. Bough?

Why do the saloonkeepers of East
 Liverpool dread the election of Charles
 F. Bough?

Charles F. Bough, if elected to the position of mayor of East Liverpool, is simply a servant in the hands of the
 people for the enforcement of law,
 order and the statutes and ordinances
 which have been enacted for the better-
 ing of the condition of this city and the full protection of all residents, high or low, rich or poor. Charles F. Bough is not, neither can he be, a law unto himself. He dare not even attempt to persecute the saloonist, or go one iota beyond the laws and ordinances made for the control of this city. Why? Simply
 for the reason that he would then become a lawbreaker, and should be punished for his illegal act. This is plain,
 unanswerable logic and indisputable
 truth. In the wisdom of our lawmakers,
 they formulated laws for the control of
 this city, with the idea paramount of
 the greater good to the greater mass—the
 people at large, irrespective of party,
 religion, clique, or station in life.

Did they place these laws and ordinances on the statute books with the full intention of having them carried
 into effect? Most assuredly; else would
 the said laws constitute a howling farce,
 and the makers thereof be either unworthy of the name of intelligent
 citizens or intentionally guilty of framing laws which they had intended
 should be broken—thus becoming law-
 breakers themselves, beneath the respect
 and esteem of any honest or decent man.

Again we ask: Why should the
 whisky ring, the saloonkeepers and the evil element fear the election of Charles
 F. Bough?

The answer floats before the eyes of
 every honest man in letters of living
 flame. Simply because the class of men
 designated above are lawbreakers—vul-
 tures and cormorants, preying upon
 society at large; men who hate law and
 order, and are the open and secret enemies of everything that is good and
 pure and true and clean.

Why does this class of men support A.
 V. Gilbert, backing him with all the power and influence they can in any manner or form command? Why do
 they spend money in his cause freely?
 Why do they howl, like hyenas, at clean
 Republicans who will not support their
 candidate, and, through clenched teeth,
 hiss:

"You are a traitor; you have gone
 back on your party; you have deserted
 your ticket; we will make it warm for
 you."

Why do they act in this manner?
 Simply because A. V. Gilbert is a fitting representative for such men. Simply because of the fact that he has demonstrated, during the past two years, that
 he winks at lawlessness and disorder
 and does not even attempt to enforce
 the laws and ordinances which he solemnly made oath that he would enforce
 to the very best of his ability. Simply because he has permitted saloons to remain open, contrary to and in absolute
 defiance of law, even daring to say to a member of his police force, a man who
 was endeavoring to do his sworn duty,
 and who made an information against a prominent saloonkeeper in Diamond
 alley:

"Didn't I tell you that I wanted you
 to leave the saloons alone?"

These are some of the reasons why
 this evil class advocate and will vote
 for A. V. Gilbert. More than one policeman has asserted to the writer of
 this article that he was forced to resign
 his position on the force in order to retain his self respect and manhood; not
 forced by Mayor Gilbert's dictum in the shape of a request for his resignation,
 under penalty of discharge; but forced
 to do so, simply because Mayor A. V.
 Gilbert was not a true or worthy chief
 magistrate, and would not enforce the
 laws when the officers in question made
 complaints and informations against notorious evildoers. Law, in Mayor Gilbert's hands, has become a misnamer, a farce and a fraud. Law, in its true sense and definition, is JUSTICE.
 Has Mayor Gilbert, by his actions during the past two years, placed this construction upon law? Nay, verily, he has not; and LAW and JUSTICE now demand, in tones not to be misunderstood,
 that Mayor Gilbert, the LAWBREAKER,
 shall vacate the honorable berth he has
 so demeaned, and make room for Charles F. Bough, the law observer and
 enforcer—the choice of all the people,
 irrespective of party, and may God bless
 and defend the right.

WANTS DELIBERATION.

The President Urges Congress to Move
 Slowly.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—[Special]—
 President McKinley, in sending the report of the Maine board of inquiry today to congress, says that he feels
 sure the sense of justice of the Spanish
 nation will dictate the course of action
 suggested by honor and the friendly relations of the two governments. He promised to advise congress of the result, and in the meantime deliberate
 consideration is invoked.

The court of inquiry finds the loss of the Maize was in no way due to the negligence of officers or crew, but the
 ship was destroyed by a submarine
 mine which caused the explosion of two or more of her forward magazines. No evidence has been obtained
 fixing the responsibility on any person or persons. The Maine was not moved from the position she took on entering the harbor.

As soon as the message was read in
 the house it was referred to the committee on foreign affairs. The house
 then adjourned.

Without Foundation.

There are all kinds of rumors about
 Company E being ordered to be in readiness to move at a moment's notice, and
 the latest is that no member of the company can leave the city without a permit from Governor Bushnell. Like
 all other rumors this is entirely without foundation.

May Not Be Fatal.

 prove fatal.

He did not attach any significance to the find but supposed it had been for-

 follows:

FOR MAYOR.

[In the Interest of Law, Order and
 Clean Government.]

X CHARLES F. BOUGH.

Subject to the Decision of All Good Citizens, irrespective of Party Affiliations.

WHAT FEAR THEY?

Why is the whisky ring afraid of
 Charles F. Bough?

Why do the saloonkeepers of East
 Liverpool dread the election of Charles
 F. Bough?

Charles F. Bough, if elected to the position of mayor of East Liverpool, is
 simply a servant in the hands of the
 people for the enforcement of law,
 order and the statutes and ordinances
 which have been enacted for the better-
 ing of the condition of this city and the
 full protection of all residents, high or
 low, rich or poor. Charles F. Bough is
 not, neither can he be, a law unto himself. He dare not even attempt to PER-SECUTE the saloonist, or go one iota beyond the laws and ordinances made for
 the control of this city. Why? Simply
 for the reason that he would then be-
 come a lawbreaker, and should be punished for his illegal act. This is plain,
 unanswerable logic and indisputable
 truth. In the wisdom of our lawmakers,
 they formulated laws for the control of
 this city, with the idea paramount of
 the greater good to the greater mass—the
 people at large, irrespective of party,
 religion, clique, or station in life.

Did they place these laws and ordinances on the statute books with the
 full intention of having them carried
 into effect? Most assuredly; else would
 the said laws constitute a howling farce,
 and the makers thereof be either un-
 worthy of the name of intelligent
 citizens or intentionally guilty of framing laws which they had intended
 should be broken—thus becoming law-
 breakers themselves, beneath the respect
 and esteem of any honest or decent man.

Again we ask: Why should the
 whisky ring, the saloonkeepers and the
 evil element fear the election of Charles
 F. Bough?

The answer floats before the eyes of
 every honest man in letters of living
 flame. Simply because the class of men
 designated above are lawbreakers—vul-
 tures and cormorants, preying upon
 society at large; men who hate law and
 order, and are the open and secret enemies of everything that is good and
 pure and true and clean.

Why does this class of men support A.
 V. Gilbert, backing him with all the
 power and influence they can in any manner or form command? Why do
 they spend money in his cause freely?
 Why do they howl, like hyenas, at clean
 Republicans who will not support their
 candidate, and, through clenched teeth,
 hiss:

"You are a traitor; you have gone
 back on your party; you have deserted
 your ticket; we will make it warm for
 you."

Why do they act in this manner?
 Simply because A. V. Gilbert is a fitting representative for such men. Simply
 because of the fact that he has demonstrated, during the past two years, that
 he winks at lawlessness and disorder
 and does not even attempt to enforce
 the laws and ordinances which he solemnly made oath that he would enforce
 to the very best of his ability. Simply because he has permitted saloons to remain open, contrary to and in absolute
 defiance of law, even daring to say to a member of his police force, a man who
 was endeavoring to do his sworn duty,
 and who made an information against a prominent saloonkeeper in Diamond
 alley:

"Didn't I tell you that I wanted you
 to leave the saloons alone?"

These are some of the reasons why
 this evil class advocate and will vote
 for A. V. Gilbert. More than one policeman has asserted to the writer of
 this article that he was forced to resign
 his position on the force in order to retain his self respect and manhood; not
 forced by Mayor Gilbert's dictum in the
 shape of a request for his resignation,
 under penalty of discharge; but forced
 to do so, simply because Mayor A. V.
 Gilbert was not a true or worthy chief
 magistrate, and would not enforce the
 laws when the officers in question made
 complaints and informations against
 notorious evildoers. Law, in Mayor
 Gilbert's hands, has become a misnomer, a farce and a fraud. Law, in its true sense and definition, is JUSTICE.
 Has Mayor Gilbert, by his actions during the past two years, placed this construction upon LAW? Nay, verily, he has not; and LAW and JUSTICE now demand, in tones not to be misunderstood,
 that Mayor Gilbert, the LAWBREAKER,
 shall vacate the honorable berth he has
 so demeaned, and make room for Charles F. Bough, the law observer and
 enforcer—the choice of all the people,
 irrespective of party, and may God bless
 and defend the right.

WANTS DELIBERATION.

The President Urges Congress to Move
 Slowly.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—[Special]—
 President McKinley, in sending the report of the Maine board of inquiry to-
 day to congress, says that he feels
 sure the sense of justice of the Spanish
 nation will dictate the course of action
 suggested by honor and the friendly
 relations of the two governments. He promised to advise congress of the result, and in the meantime deliberate
 consideration is invoked.

The court of inquiry finds the loss of the Maine was in no way due to the
 negligence of officers or crew, but the
 ship was destroyed by a submarine
 mine which caused the explosion of two or more of her forward magazines. No evidence has been obtained
 fixing the responsibility on any person
 or persons. The Maine was not moved
 from the position she took on entering
 the harbor.

As soon as the message was read in
 the house it was referred to the committee on foreign affairs. The house
 then adjourned.

Without Foundation.

There are all kinds of rumors about
 Company E being ordered to be in readiness to move at a moment's notice, and
 the latest is that no member of the
 company can leave the city without a permit from Governor Bushnell. Like
 all other rumors this is entirely without
 foundation.

May Not Be Fatal.

 Canton where he was called by an accident to his mother, Mrs. M. S. Warner.
 He found her suffering with a broken collar bone and a number of other injuries, but it is thought they will not prove fatal.

DEFEAT A. V. GILBERT.

Let 500 Christian women, in the name of God and for the protection of our homes, enter this campaign, and success is sure.

Suppose for the next two years we shall have what I think would properly be called a whisky administration. The present and eternal ruin of ten souls you would concede would be a low estimate. That is, ten souls that would not have been chargeable to the government if the laws had been enforced. Who is responsible? The persons who by vote inaugurated this state of things? What is their responsibility? If 1000 voters in the same cause, then the responsibility would be 10-1000 or 1-100 of a soul for each voter.

But the loss is eternal and eternal is infinite. 1-100 multiplied by infinity is still infinity. Therefore each voter has an infinite responsibility.

Many may cry, we have beaten; but the returns are not all in!

What shall be the verdict when the 1000 voters shall each come up to judgment to face an infinite responsibility?

A Christian minister said to me: "You have said enough—you will awaken sympathy for these candidates."

Yet men can destroy our sons, husbands and brothers, for this world and the world to come, and we must be very careful lest we say too much and awaken sympathy for them. All eternity will not be long enough to express the horror of this iniquity. For my own part I have often had a great fear that when that great day shall come it might come to me that I had said too little and too weak, but too much—never; too strongly—impossible.

REV. C. F. SWIFT.

The Condition and How It Can Be Remedied.

The peace and well being of a city, state or nation, depends upon a due recognition of the value and importance of law, and the necessity of its enforcement, as well as the character and spirit of the law itself.

Law exists for more than one specific purpose. It not only stands as a warning to the person who is disposed to do evil, defining to him the legitimate bounds in which he must act and live; but it also stands as an expression of facts and ideas, which become an aid and help in guiding and guarding the individual in his struggle among men. Hence law becomes not only a warning against evil doers, but a guide in aiding any who give it proper consideration to attain to better things.

But all law is dead and useless if it be simply enacted and written down. It is of value only as it becomes a living fact in the hands of persons who have been chosen by the people, or otherwise appointed, to reveal its meaning and its purpose. Wise law to be of value must be active, and law to be active must be in the hands of a character who feels and appreciates its meaning and necessity.

It would be well for each citizen of East Liverpool to sit down and quietly consider the above stated facts for many reasons, for our peace, welfare and prosperity, as a city, will be determined by this.

Law never enforces itself; this the evil doer well understands, and hence he has no fear of law until he finds it in the hands of a person who will make it effective. Indeed, the evil doer will often be ardent in the passing of laws which promise better things and conditions, and then seek for the position by which he may prevent the fulfillment of what the law contained. This condition of things has too long existed in our city.

Many of our citizens who desire positions in the gift of the people have interested themselves in the enactment of laws which, if they were enforced, would be an everlasting blessing to all of our people. They have appealed to the people for their votes, and because of the interest manifest in the enactment of laws, just and good, they have received them; but no sooner have they settled themselves in the position to which they have been elected. Then they have demonstrated that their interest ceased with the enactment of the law; enforcement of law has never been a part of their pledge or interest. Indeed it is to their interest that it be not enforced; hence the desire for obtaining a position, to prohibit enforcement. That man who is not interested in the enforcement of law as well as the enactment of it is not fit for a position in the gift of the people. Any man who seeks a position that he may reveal his own power, rather than the power of the law, ought not to have the support of the voters of our city. A man who does not recognize the law and its meaning is not worthy of your votes and mine. A man who cannot and will not be obedient to law is a dangerous person to put in a position to enforce law. These are the very reasons why we appeal to every voter in this city at present to stop and consider well before you cast your ballot at the coming election.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

Have we not as a city passed laws which seek the peace and purity of all within our care? Have we not said by the enactment of law that the evil doer shall be punished, and have not those evils been defined? Have not we said to the saloon keepers, there are limits beyond which you must not go? Have we not said the same to the gambler and the prize fighter, the Sabbath breaker and other evilly disposed characters? Certainly we have. And shall we now disgrace ourselves by voting for men who in their daily lives say to us: "I am in sympathy with almost all forms of evil and hence ask for your support." If we had respect for the laws passed, let us respect them by placing men back of them who will make them effective.

A drunken mayor is as much a disgrace to a city as a drunken father is to a home.

A drunken father can never become a pride of the home; neither can a drunken mayor or any other officer be a pride and a protection of a city. Any officer who will not keep within the limits of law himself is a poor specimen of manhood to place over the interests of other people. Good government means good laws and good men back of them. This it is which will secure the highest good to every man, woman and child of our city.

A lawless officer can never be an example of good; but one who respects himself enough to be true to law and right will be an example and an inspiration to all. This city has now reached a point where the question is, shall our laws be respected and enforced, or shall we elect men to office who shall have the power to do as they please in reference to law.

Every voter in this city will be called upon to take one side or the other at the ballot box on April 4. The interest of your own home demands that you give your support to those pledged to enforce the law rather than to those who glory in breaking it. Give your support to the man who has pledged himself to stand by the best interests of your home; who has said, if the saloonkeeper must do business in our city, he must do it according to law. In the name of truth and right give your children and your wives and all a chance to point to our officers with pride and respect. Protect your homes your churches and every good interest and institution of this city by placing in office temperance men, Christian men, God fearing men. Righteousness exalts a people but sin is a reproach. Let your influence and vote be on the side of righteousness that our city may be lifted above the ills and evils now upon us. Place men in office who will make it hard for the transgressor to break beyond the limits which law defines. See to it that you in no way give your support to any form of evil by supporting men who are evilly disposed. By your vote make it possible for every inmate of your home to say, we have at the head of our city officials a worthy example of temperance, law and godliness.

C. F. SWIFT.

REV. O. S. REED

Strikes Straight From the Shoulder In Condemning Wrongs.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I most heartily commend the stand you have taken in your columns in behalf of clean city government. I view it as being the imperative duty of the hour—to elect such men to office as will enforce law and order. The administration of public affairs in East Liverpool has been such as to give the public conscience and give us a square issue between right and wrong; between lawfulness and lawlessness. May the right prevail. If it is desirable to have liquor sellers protected in violation of law; if the Lord's day is to be desecrated, vote for A. V. Gilbert. If, on the other hand, it is desirable to have liquor sellers comply with plain provisions of the law; if the Lord's day is to be consecrated to high and holy purposes, vote for Charles F. Bough. This is the issue. Place me on the side of law and order. A friend of Charles F. Bough.

O. S. REED.

The audience at the Christian church last night was one of the largest ever seen in that building. At times the congregation was held spellbound by the inspiring words spoken by the pastor, Reverend Reed. The speaker had for his text the first chapter of James, and in part said:

"The river Rhine flows through Germany, and is noted for its beauty. A young man passing down the stream heard a beautiful song. Nearing the river he found it hard to break away. He went home, but this song kept ringing in his ears and he was compelled to visit the scene once more. He could not see the singer, but kept going up the stream, hoping he might find her; but, lo, a storm arose and he and his boat were dashed to pieces.

"There are those who look upon wine in the cup while red as something beautiful and pleasing to taste, never thinking that it stingeth like an adder. The man who drinks of the cup says, 'I will never become a drunkard. I will never abuse my wife, my children, my mother. I am too strong to fall.' Drink is the greatest temptation a man can come in contact with. Drink causes the robbing of a home of all its pleasures, and all its goodness. We have tried many plans to redeem men from a drunkard's grave. We have warned them, pleaded with them, prayed and cried over them, and what has it done? Men in power have fallen before this tempter. Men of high station, governors, magistrates; it has caused them all to fall, and, I may add, preachers have fallen.

"Hearer, what are you going to do about this great question? Shall we let this tide drift? We hear a great cry now about Cuba. Read startling stories of the great trial the island is now making for independence. I am a patriot. I do not believe America should permit such actions as the Spanish are now doing in the western hemisphere. Look at the Maine incident. Look at that picture of the starvation of Cubans and the lost lives of the Maine. It is as nought to the lives that are being lost daily in our own midst. Hundreds are dying of starvation in Cuba; thousands are dying in this country and I may say some are dying in East Liverpool, all through the one thing, drink.

"We look upon the good government of East Liverpool as a local issue; but this demand for good government is going all through the United States. In all the large cities the good and righteous people are determined to have the laws and ordinances of their cities enforced.

"The good people of all this grand country intend, and will eventually, revolutionize the affairs of the cities of all the world. There seems to be a movement in all places to have law and order at any price.

"God has his appointed seasons for all things.

"We are on the eve of a great revolution. We are growing awake to this great intemperance. The tempter holds his head erect. He holds the government of this city in his hands. Time demands a purifying of our government. The evils of the city should be put down. When it comes to pass that the mayor of a city will wink at the evil actions of others, and not keeping the Lord's day, and going to cock fights, and seeing other vile things, it is time the Christian men take a hand and put

REV. C. F. SWIFT.

Many of our citizens who desire positions in the gift of the people have interested themselves in the enactment of laws which, if they were enforced, would be an everlasting blessing to all of our people. They have appealed to the people for their votes, and because of the interest manifest in the enactment of laws, just and good, they have received them; but no sooner have they settled themselves in the position to which they have been elected. Then they have demonstrated that their interest ceased with the enactment of the law; enforcement of law has never been a part of their pledge or interest. Indeed it is to their interest that it be not enforced; hence the desire for obtaining a position, to prohibit enforcement. That man who is not interested in the enforcement of law as well as the enactment of it is not fit for a position in the gift of the people. Any man who seeks a position that he may reveal his own power, rather than the power of the law, ought not to have the support of the voters of our city. A

Reverend Reinartz Sent Two Bullets After Him

AS HE WENT OVER THE WALL

But the Preacher's Aim Was Not What It Might Have Been, and the Fellow Escaped — Mrs. Paul Would Readily Recognize Him.

Jack the Peep came near ending his career Saturday night, and had it not been for the poor aim of Reverend Reinartz he would certainly never again frighten residents in various parts of the city.

Several weeks ago the fellow was seen one Saturday night at the rear window of the residence of Rev. J. G. Reinartz, in Jackson street. Mrs. Reinartz was alone, as the reverend gentleman was preaching in Wall Rose, and she was badly frightened, but said nothing of the affair, except to her husband.

Reverend Reinartz at once changed his day for going to Wall Rose, and Saturday night between 10 and 11 o'clock the fellow called at the house, evidently thinking the reverend gentleman was in Wall Rose. He climbed the wall into the yard in the rear of the house and tapped on the back window. The curtain was drawn at once, and the fellow said: "It is strange I cannot pass through any of the streets without the people yelling and shooting at me."

Mrs. Reinartz paid no attention to the man, but notified her husband, who was in his study. He procured his revolver and opening an upstairs window fired at the man, who started to run. The fellow jumped the wall, but not before the reverend's revolver had cracked again.

Mrs. Paul, who lives in the alley, hearing the noise, opened her door with a lamp in her hand, and as he passed she got a full view of his face. He is described as being about 45 years old, of medium height, has a reddish mustache and wears a cap drawn over his eyes. She is confident she could identify him if she ever sees him again.

DEARER THAN A PLUMBER.

Mrs. Bantz Thawed Frozen Pipes by Building a Fire of Newspapers.

To thaw out a frozen water pipe Mrs. Annie Bantz lit a bonfire of newspapers the other morning in the kitchen of her home in Chicago. The ice in the pipe readily yielded to the warming influence, and Mrs. Bantz would have begun drawing water to make the breakfast coffee if the flames had quit work at the most considerate time.

Just as if there were other things that needed thawing out, the blaze went on a tour of investigation about the kitchen. The housewife made a gallant essay to stem the fire's progress, but when the woodwork was all in flames and the stove had been overturned an appeal was made to the fire department.

After a few streams had played in the kitchen for more than an hour the fire was routed. The direct and indirect cost of thawing the water pipe was estimated at $1,000, and one of the firemen remarked it would not have been much more expensive to have hired a plumber. — Chicago Chronicle.

A RICH STRIKE.

A Stampede From Dawson to the Newly Discovered Gold Fields.

SKAGWAY, Alaska, March 24, via Seattle, Wash., March 28. — One of the biggest stampedes yet recorded in the Klondike region was occasioned on Feb. 12 by a very rich strike on the divide between the Big and Little Skokum. The strike was made in bench diggings, on a high hogback, 300 or 400 feet above the level of the gulches.

Pay dirt, running from $1 to $35 a pan, was found. Following the announcement of the strike occurred a stampede from Dawson of immense proportions, and the entire ridge was staked out in a short time. This news was brought to this city by Mr. A. Piche, official courier and dispatch bearer for the Canadian government.

Mr. Piche says there was immense excitement at Dawson when he left over the Skokum strike, and that over 200 men were standing in line at the recorder's office to make a record of their claims. Mr. Piche also brings the news of a new strike on Lewis river, which is of great importance, if it develops as is promised.

The latest reports from the Salmon river country are brought out by Chas. Fitzpatrick, who has arrived here from that district. Fitzpatrick says the find on Walsh creek is all that has been claimed for it, that he took from his own claim $2.50 to the pan.

PRESENTS A WARLIKE APPEARANCE.

The Vessels at Key West Harbor Being Painted—More Bodies Buried.

KEY WEST, March 28. — The excitement among naval officers and residents abated somewhat, but everywhere groups could be seen discussing the probability of war with Spain.

The work of painting the battleships, unexpectedly stopped, was resumed today. They will be painted a dull lead color instead of black.

It was learned that Captain Chadwick of the New York sailed last night on the Bache for Havana. His mission there, it is said, is to confer with Lieutenant Commander Wainwright and to decide whether further wrecking work on the Maine will be of any use.

The Iowa has left for the Dry Tortugas, where she will coal. She is expected here shortly. The harbor once more presents a warlike appearance. The Marblehead, Montgomery, Detroit, Nashville, Cincinnati, Castine, Wilmington and six torpedo boats lie close in shore, while the Indiana and the New York loom up six miles out. The Montgomery is expected to go north shortly.

Eight bodies from the Maine were quietly laid to rest in the city cemetery with the same simple ceremonies that have attended the interment of other bodies buried here.

SIGNED THE LEASE.

Port Arthur Given Over to the Russians by the Chinese Government.

PEKIN, March 28. — M. Pavloff, the Russian charge d'affaires, has signed the agreement regarding the lease of Port Arthur and Ta Lien Wan and the railway concession. Port Arthur was given over today.

Chin Chow will remain Chinese, but the Russians will establish a small station in the environs. China will retain sovereign rights generally, and Port Arthur and Ta Lien Wan will be open to the warships of all nations.

Regarding the customs, the Russians reserve to themselves the collection of the dues, but nothing is divulged as to their eventual destination. The Russians will probably take the forts at Port Arthur. The Chinese have decided to open Fu-Ning, province of Fo-Kien, as a treaty port.

Submarine Boat a Success.

NEW YORK, March 28. — The submarine boat Holland has been given another successful trial. After running a short time on the surface the vessel was submerged, bow first, until all that was above the surface was the flagpoles. The vessel came up bow first, showing that she had been turned under water and was perfectly under the control of the inventor. This performance was repeated several times.

Death of Mrs. Parnell.

LONDON, March 28. — Mrs. Delia Tudor Parnell, daughter of the celebrated American naval officer, Rear Admiral Charles Stewart, and mother of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, has died at Avondale Rathdrum, County Wicklow, Ireland, as the result of the burns received from the igniting of her clothing while she was sitting before a fire.

Killed in a Tornado.

SOUTH McALESTER, I. T., March 28. — A terrific windstorm has swept over the country between this place and Lehigh and Colgate. Four farmhouses were demolished and the occupants of three of them are reported to have been killed. Passengers arriving from Lehigh state that in the country southeast of here the tornado did great damage and that many are reported killed and injured.

Suicided Over the Flood.

ZANESVILLE, O., March 28. — John Derringer, aged 38 years, has committed suicide. The flood had wrecked his building and ruined the contents, and when he was refused a further loan on the property he went home, kissed his wife and children goodbye and shot himself in their presence.

Butterfield's Regiment Tenders Services.

WASHINGTON, March 28. — General Butterfield, who has been acting as secretary of war that his old regiment, the Twelfth New York, has, through its commander, Colonel Leonard, by letter to the governor of New York, tendered its services for war, in case it comes.

FLEEING FROM FLOOD.

Sleeping Families Have Narrow Escapes.

MANY PERSONS ARE HOMELESS.

The Dykes Burst and Flood Hannibal, Mo.—The River Falling at Cincinnati. Many Other Sections Are Flooded—The Loss Will Be Large.

HANNIBAL, Mo., March 28. — Part of the city lying along Bear creek is under water, making travel impossible, except in skiffs or vehicles. The most damage was done in Bear creek valley, where a large number of cottages are located. Both the city and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad dykes gave way, flooding a section two miles long and arousing the sleeping inmates, who barely had time to escape. There were many narrow escapes, and had it not been for the prompt assistance tendered by those who owned boats many would have perished. Many poor families are made homeless, with their household goods destroyed. Fortunately there were no fatalities.

CINCINNATI, March 28. — Unless rain should come copiously and quickly the present freshet of the Ohio river will very soon pour the great flood into the Mississippi river. From Portsmouth up it is falling. At Portsmouth it is rising slowly. At all points below, to Cairo, it is rising. Here, at Cincinnati, the current is unusually swift, which indicates that the access of water from tributaries below has diminished greatly and given free course to the piled up waters above.

In the lowlands of Cincinnati nearly 1,000 houses are flooded with from one to four feet of water. Some have been abandoned, which is the case with one-story cottages. In two-story houses families remain in the upper stories. Of flooded houses there are 500 in and about Cumminsville from backwater in Mill creek, where the inundation is more annoying than serious. In and about Columbia, the extreme upriver limit of the city, 400 houses are soaked with from one to four feet of water.

At Riverside, the extreme down town limit of the city, 100 houses are effected about as those at Columbia. Those driven out find no difficulty in securing shelter with their more fortunate neighbors, though some occupy tents on high ground. Nearly all effected are experienced flood fighters and are seldom caught napping when a great rise comes down the Ohio. On the Kentucky side the inhabitants of lowlands near Dayton and Bellevue have been placed in the same unpleasant situation as their Cincinnati neighbors. No railroad in Cincinnati has been disturbed by the local flood, except that some have been deprived of the use of the Grand Central depot. Thus far no casualties have been reported.

PORTSMOUTH, O., March 28. — The Ohio river is 57 feet 4 inches and is rising one-fourth inch per hour. A big force of men have been working all day strengthening the temporary levees to keep the water out of the center of the city, thus preventing heavy damage. Fire engines are pumping out the sewers in an effort to keep the water from reaching the threatened district through that source. The river will be at a standstill by tonight.

PRINCETON, Ind., March 28. — The water in the Wabash continues to rise at the rate of two-thirds of an inch an hour, and the White and Patoka are rising at about the same rate. Railroads are switching around every way to get to destination, but all connection will soon be cut off from here, except to local points, unless the water soon recedes. Thousands of dollars will be lost to the bottom farmers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., March 28. — Rain poured down in torrents nearly all day Sunday, and the rainfall in 24 hours was the greatest since the weather bureau was established here, 18 years ago. The Sangamon river is badly overflowed and is still rising. Railroad traffic is badly crippled. The Wabash has washouts at Perry and Meredosia, west of this city, and at Buffalo, 12 miles east, a train is stalled. The C. & P. has a train stalled at Havana.

FORTY-EIGHT MEN PERISHED.

Many Others Badly Frost Bitten and Are Suffering Terribly.

St. Johns, N. F., March 28. — The steamer Greenland, returning from the seal fishery, put into Bay de Verde and reported a terrible disaster. On Wednesday last, when among the ice floes, while her crew were traveling about the floes in search of seals, a storm arose, accompanied by a blinding snow, which drifted rapidly. The members of the crew who were on the ice could not regain the vessel and were exposed to the terrible weather throughout the night and all the next day.

Forty-eight men perished, and between 50 and 60 were so badly frost bitten that the amputation of one or more of their limbs will have to be undergone by all of them. All of the frost bitten men are now aboard the steamer and are suffering terribly.

Will Make a Protest.

COLORADO SPRINGS, March 28. — The letter recently sent to President McKinley from Colorado Springs men, urging "hands off" in the Cuban affair, has been received here. A mass meeting has been called for this evening to denounce the petition and petitioners as presumptuous and thoroughly un-American.

BUY UNION MADE GOODS.

Union Workmen and Sympathizers Should Ask For the Label.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

The Union Label committee of Trades council having been instructed to secure and publish a fac-simile of different Union Labels, in order to more thoroughly acquaint the public with the same, they herewith present the following. It is the purpose of the committee to insert other labels, and when making purchases you should ask for labeled goods. Be on your guard for false and counterfeit labels.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.
All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

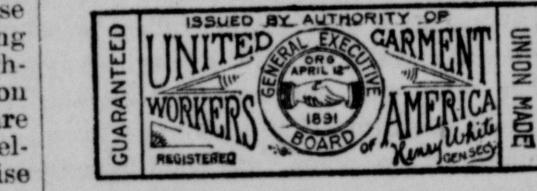

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE.
COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.
Good only during months named in lower left hand corner and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union-made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

This Label is the only positive guarantee that ready-made clothing, including overalls and jackets, is not made under the dreaded, disease-infested tenement house and sweating system.

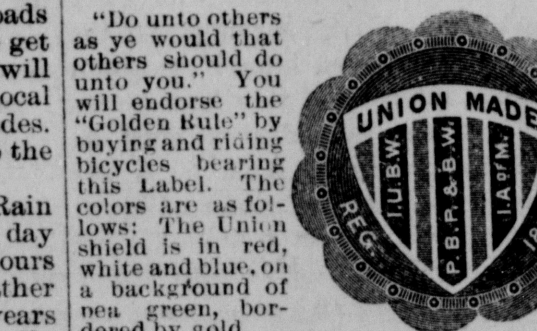

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of new green, bordered by gold.

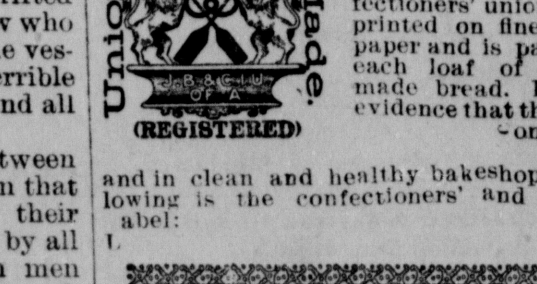

The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

TOBACCO LABEL.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size fac-simile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is of fair and honest quality, and in clean and healthy bakeries.

Following is the confectioners' and cracker label:

Union-Certified That the Confectioners and Cracker Manufacturers' union is a bona fide union, and that the goods are made by its members.

HANNIBAL, Mo., March 28.—Part of the city lying along Bear creek is under water, making travel impossible, except in skiffs or vehicles. The most damage was done in Bear creek valley, where a large number of cottages are located. Both the city and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad dykes gave way, flooding a section two miles long and arousing the sleeping inmates, who barely had time to escape. There were many narrow escapes, and had it not been for the prompt assistance tendered by those who owned boats many would have perished. Many poor families are made homeless, with their household goods destroyed. Fortunately there were no fatalities.

CINCINNATI, March 28.—Unless rain should come copiously and quickly the present freshet of the Ohio river will very soon pour the great flood into the Mississippi river. From Portsmouth up it is falling. At Portsmouth it is rising slowly. At all points below, to Cairo, it is rising. Here, at Cincinnati, the current is unusually swift, which indicates that the access of water from tributaries below has diminished greatly and given free course to the piled up waters above.

In the lowlands of Cincinnati nearly 1,000 houses are flooded with from one to four feet of water. Some have been abandoned, which is the case with one-story cottages. In two-story houses families remain in the upper stories. Of flooded houses there are 500 in and about Cumminsville from backwater in Mill creek, where the inundation is more annoying than serious. In and about Columbia, the extreme upriver limit of the city, 400 houses are soaked with from one to four feet of water.

At Riverside, the extreme down town limit of the city, 100 houses are effected about as those at Columbia. Those driven out find no difficulty in securing shelter with their more fortunate neighbors, though some occupy tents on high ground. Nearly all effected are experienced flood fighters and are seldom caught napping when a great rise comes down the Ohio. On the Kentucky side the inhabitants of lowlands near Dayton and Bellevue have been placed in the same unpleasant situation as their Cincinnati neighbors. No railroad in Cincinnati has been disturbed by the local flood, except that some have been deprived of the use of the Grand Central depot. Thus far no casualties have been reported.

PORTSMOUTH, O., March 28.—The Ohio river is 57 feet 4 inches and is rising one-fourth inch per hour. A big force of men have been working all day strengthening the temporary levees to keep the water out of the center of the city, thus preventing heavy damage. Fire engines are pumping out the sewers in an effort to keep the water from reaching the threatened district through that source. The river will be at a standstill by tonight.

PRINCETON, Ind., March 28.—The water in the Wabash continues to rise at the rate of two-thirds of an inch an hour, and the White and Patoka are rising at about the same rate. Railroads are switching around every way to get to destination, but all connection will soon be cut off from here, except to local points, unless the water soon recedes. Thousands of dollars will be lost to the bottom farmers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 28.—Rain poured down in torrents nearly all day Sunday, and the rainfall in 24 hours was the greatest since the weather bureau was established here, 18 years ago. The Sangamon river is badly overflowed and is still rising. Railroad traffic is badly crippled. The Wabash has washouts at Perry and Meredosia, west of this city, and at Buffalo, 12 miles east, a train is stalled. The C. P. & P. has a train stalled at Havana.

FORTY-EIGHT MEN PERISHED.

Many Others Badly Frost Bitten and Are Suffering Terribly.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 28.—The steamer Greenland, returning from the seal fishery, put into Bay de Verde and reported a terrible disaster. On Wednesday last, when among the ice floes, while her crew were traveling about the floes in search of seals, a storm arose, accompanied by a blinding snow, which drifted rapidly. The members of the crew who were on the ice could not regain the vessel and were exposed to the terrible weather throughout the night and all the next day.

Forty-eight men perished, and between 50 and 60 were so badly frost bitten that the amputation of one or more of their limbs will have to be undergone by all of them. All of the frost bitten men are now aboard the steamer and are suffering terribly.

Will Make a Protest.

COLORADO SPRINGS, March 28.—The letter recently sent to President McKinley from Colorado Springs men, urging "hands off" in the Cuban affair, has been received by the Cuban government. A mass meeting has been called for this evening to denounce the petition and petitioners as presumptuous and thoroughly un-American.

BUY UNION MADE GOODS.

Union Workmen and Sympathizers Should Ask For the Label.

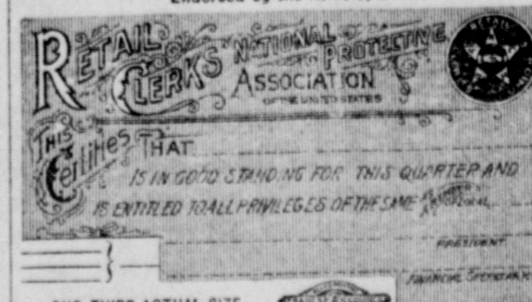

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

The Union Label committee of Trades council having been instructed to secure and publish a fac-simile of different Union Labels, in order to more thoroughly acquaint the public with the same, they herewith present the following. It is the purpose of the committee to insert other labels, and when making purchases you should ask for labeled goods. Be on your guard for false and counterfeit labels.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

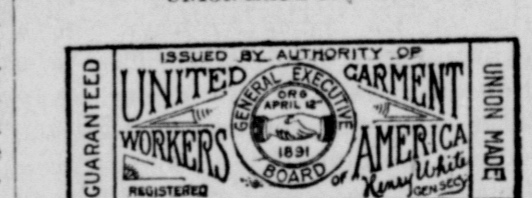

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only during months named in lower left hand corner and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

This Label is the only positive guarantee that ready-made clothing, including overalls and jackets, is not made under the dreaded, disease-infested tenement house and sweating system.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailors' Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of sea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

TOBACCO LABEL.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is of fair and good quality, and is made in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker label:

ABUSING HIS MOTHER

Was the Charge Against Frank Stevens Today.

SWORE AT HER IN JAIL

A Salty Dose Is In Store For Him if He Is Convicted—Two Men For Fighting Made Up the Remainder of the Business In Police Court.

Mayor Gilbert had but three cases to dispose of this morning when he arrived at city hall, and short work was made of all the offenders.

The first offender was Robert Hotten. He was arrested Saturday night by Chief Johnson for fighting in Second street. He put up a $10 forfeit, and when he appeared he was returned $3.40.

C. Groner was arrested on a similar charge by Chief Johnson, and was fined $6.60 and released.

The most interesting case was that of Frank Stevens. He was arrested last night on complaint of his mother, who charges him with gross abuse. When put in jail he swore terribly at the officer, and made all sorts of threats. His mother called upon the mayor this morning, and when she and Mayor Gilbert went in the jail the boy called her every name he could think of. He said he didn't care what kind of a charge was made against him, and he only wished he could be sent to the works. He was given a hearing, and as his character is well known, the mayor reserved his decision.

Several people called on Mayor Gilbert early in the day and asked that officers be sent to their homes as younger members of the families were making much trouble. Officer Finley was assigned to one of these cases, which was in the East End. It was one similar to that of Frank Stevens.

AN OUTRAGE

Is What the Women Think of the Shantyboat Law.

The shantyboat residents of the city have warm advocates in several women who last week made a tour of inspection along the river front. The women returned with a great deal of sympathy for the residents and proclaim that the $10 tax is an outrage. They claim that a majority of the houseboat people do not inhabit them from choice, but from absolute necessity. They have trouble in gaining a livelihood, and to compel them to pay $10 a year is a hardship which many of them will be unable to overcome.

CHICKEN FIGHTS

Several chicken fights are scheduled to take place this week. It was stated by a fancier that two fights will be fought tomorrow night and one next Friday. # CONFERRED WITH THE PRESIDENT.

Several Members of the Cabinet Visit the White House—The Spanish Minister Calls on Judge Day.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The president saw a number of the members of the cabinet at the White House Sunday. They dropped in one by one until those present included Secretaries Bliss, Alger, Gage and Attorney General Griggs. With them also was Assistant Secretary Day of the state department, who presumably had some dispatches to show the president. The meeting was not a special cabinet meeting in the sense in which that term is generally used, but was simply a talk between the president and his advisers, such as occurred last Sunday, concerning matters on which he desired to consult them.

The Cuban question and the report of the Maine court of inquiry were the topics discussed, but so far as could be ascertained nothing conclusive was determined, one of the members of the cabinet saying subsequently that there was nothing new or startling in the situation.

Assistant Secretary Day spent a portion of the Sabbath at the state department, and there received a call from the Spanish minister, a rather unusual procedure, indicating important matters for consideration. The conference lasted some time, but its nature could not be learned.

Commodore Winfield S. Schley, just appointed commander of the "flying squadron," has left here for Norfolk. It is expected that he will today hoist his flag on the Brooklyn, which is to be the flagship of the fleet. The only other vessel of the squadron now at Hampton Roads is the Massachusetts.

The developments of the day in the Cuban situation indicate steady progress in the negotiations between the government of this country and that of Spain looking to the maintenance of peace, for the present at least. There is good authority for saying that Spain's present wish is to secure a cessation of hostilities in Cuba rather than to engage in a war with the United States, and that it is more than probable that the negotiations between the government of the United States and the Sagasta ministry will take that turn in the immediate future. The present Spanish ministry has professed a pacific disposition from the beginning, and the indications are strong now that it will avail itself of the good offices of the United States to the fullest extent that public opinion in Spain will allow in bringing to an end hostilities in Cuba.

To what extent the United States may go in assisting Spain in her present design of securing an armistice is not yet determined, but the conservative element in the administration consider the manifestation of this desire on the part of Spain for even a temporary peace a direct result of President McKinley's diplomacy, and they are naturally disposed to contend that the president should be left free for the present at least to pursue a policy which promises much in the way of preventing war between this country and Spain, and also of bringing to a close the hostilities in Cuba. Hence there will be an effort on the part of the peacefully inclined in congress to continue to hold that body in check and to prevent inflammatory utterances there until this promising diplomatic lead may be exploited.

On the part of the administration, it is stated that the development of the situation will not require a great length of time, and hence that there will be no extended delay. A policy has been fully determined upon by the president. It is to bring the Cuban war to a close. This will be accomplished by pointed intervention if necessary, but it is considered far preferable that the end should come as the result of peaceful negotiations than that it should be accompanied by hostile demonstrations on the part of the United States. Hence the disposition of the president is to give Spain a fair opportunity to secure an armistice with the Cubans and to allow her a reasonable time in which to come to an understanding with the hostiles.

It can be stated upon high authority that there has been no abatement of the president's intention to see that the war is terminated when it is closed upon terms that will render the Cubans practically a free people. It is not believed that they would accept anything less nor that Americans would be satisfied if we should encourage a settlement that would not be acceptable to the Cubans. If there should now be an armistice it would be with the concession made by Spain at the instance of this country that the negotiations should be opened immediately with the insurgents looking to the establishment of a permanent peace upon these terms.

It has long been the hope of the administration to bring Spain to the point of making propositions of this character as the basis of a settlement most satisfactory to all parties, and it is hoped from Spain's attitude that this time has arrived.

The friends of the administration feel that the situation is a very delicate one, and that much will depend upon the course congress may pursue. In the meantime the president will, on Wednesday, send his message asking that an appropriation be made for the aid of the destitute Cubans.

Left For Hampton Roads.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—The cruiser Columbia has left League Island for Hampton Roads. She and navyyard loading ammunition, after finished her pilots were taken aboard. Notwithstanding rain fell for the greater part of today, there was no cessation of work at the navy station. Calkers were busy putting the decks of the Minneapolis and a few remaining stores were put aboard.

DONS VERY WARLIKE.

The Spanish People Will Resist Intervention.

NEWSPAPERS VERY EMPHATIC.

Prefer War In Preference to Freeing Cuba—Government Urged to Get Ready For a Naval Fight—Spaniards Becoming Very Patriotic.

MADRID, March 28.—El Liberal, referring to dispatches from Washington attributing to President McKinley a decision to propose that Spain should free Cuba for an indemnity, says:

"The government may answer what it pleases, but the Spanish people as a whole will not deign to discuss this proposal. Spain will go to war in fulfilling her duty, but not for ephemeral glories or the desire of conquest. We may emerge vanquished, which is somewhat doubtful, but we will never come out dishonored."

El Imparcial says: "It is indispensable to get ready all the elements we possess for a naval fight, and it is urgent that the fleet should go to Cuba."

"The United States will maintain the advantage if they can place seven ironclads in front of the Vizcaya and the Almirante Oquendo, but when the two ships actually have to fight this disadvantage will disappear before the skill and courage of our sailors."

The semi-official El Globo says: "At a time when the duration of the war in Cuba is being brought to a close by force of arms and when peace is being restored by means of autonomy the United States throws down the mask which hid their ambition. In whose name are they going to establish intervention, and in the cause of what save that of revolutionary bandits? If the United States will put light to the powder they have been heaping up so long this is an inopportune time to do so."

Referring to the question of the intervention of European powers it says: "They will be unable to avert a trial of strength, but they will soon see themselves forced to impose reasonable limits. It behooves us then always to be in the right, not only as a satisfaction to our consciences, but as the very backbone of our energy. The Spanish government which, in every case, will meet the demands imposed upon it by the exigencies of the situation, is today absolutely in the right and will make the right known at any cost."

El Tiempo says: "If we must fight, our means will not be so scanty that we cannot show the world how a nation fights in defense of its rights."

The latest intelligence from the United States has occasioned a great patriotic movement throughout Spain. A large number of persons have announced their intention to give up a day's pay for services in order to raise a fund to purchase a warship. A committee, over which the bishop of Madrid will preside, has been organized to receive subscriptions. Special theatrical performances are announced, the receipts of which are to be devoted to this purpose.

LONDON, March 28.—Count de Raseon, the Spanish ambassador to Great Britain, paid a visit to the foreign office, and remained three-quarters of an hour.

No credence whatever is given in well-informed circles to the Sunday special Berlin correspondent's alleged interview with United States Ambassador White at Berlin, in the course of which Mr. White is made to say that Emperor William had expressed a belief that the Maine was not destroyed from the outside, and that German Admiral Knorr, with members of the naval committee, had studied at the emperor's direction a series of exhaustive reports cabled from Havana, and reached the conclusion that the explosion was due to the overheating of the Maine's coal bunkers, a view Ambassador White was said to share.

BERLIN, March 28.—The Madrid correspondent of the Frankfort Zeitung says: "Senor Gullon, the minister of foreign affairs, has informed me that an extremely threatening note has arrived from Washington regarding the cessation of war in Cuba." He added: "No matter how one regards the affair a rupture can now hardly be avoided."

Elections In Spain.

MADRID, March 28.—The elections for the popular branch of the cortes have passed off, on the whole, quietly. The indications are that the government of Senor Sagasta will have an enormous majority, estimated at 300 of the 432 seats in the congress.

CONGRESSMAN SIMPKINS DEAD.

He Represented a Massachusetts District In the House.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Representative John Simpkins of the Thirteenth district of Massachusetts has died at his residence in this city, 1717 K street, of heart failure, induced by gastric complications. No arrangements as to the funeral have been made.

Representative Simpkins was a man of independent fortune. He was born in New Bedford, Mass., June 27, 1862, attended the public schools of Yarmouth and, after preparing for college at St. Mark's school, Southboro, graduated at Harvard university in 1885. He served in the Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth congresses, where he was known to his colleagues as a man faithful to the interests of his constituents, although rarely taking part in debate. Mr. Simpkins had recently been made a member of the congressional committee.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Feb. 24, 1895.

MR. L. H. CLEMENT:

Having carefully examined the Clifford piano, I am pleased to state that I find the same an excellent instrument. Among its chief points are depth, richness and volume of tone and duration of sound, combined with clearness and perfect evenness throughout the entire scale. Regarding the inner mysteries of piano construction as judged from a practical tuner's standpoint, it is equal in every detail to the best. I consider the Clifford piano entitled to rank among our first-class pianos.

Thomas York, of Calcutta road, is very ill with diphtheria. His condition was somewhat improved today.

Charles R. Lakel, a student at Mt. Hope college at Rogers, spent yesterday visiting his brother in Second street.

The Free Methodists held an open air meeting in the Diamond last evening. It was the first they have held this year.

A new story is being built to a portion of the Sebring pottery on Second street. It will be used for decorating purposes.

The auditing committees appointed at the last meeting of council will commence their work the latter part of this week.

Judge Smith, in city hall Saturday afternoon, gave his decision in the McClosky-Hays case in favor of the plaintiff.

Miss Mary McCurron and Miss Carrie Hilbert, who are attached to a Cleveland convent, spent yesterday in the city visiting relatives.

A man, whose name could not be learned, fainted last evening in Sixth street. He was carried into a business house and soon recovered.

The announcement is made of the approaching marriage of George Heisler and Miss Anna Burford. The young people have many friends in this city.

William Elwell has entered suit in Squire Manley's court against Daniel Smith, charging him with forcible detention. The case will be heard Thursday.

The river is falling rapidly and the marks now register 20 feet. The only remnant of the flood is the irregular line of mud which marks the Ohio side the entire length of the city. Sunday boats arrived on time, and today towboats took over 500,000 bushels of coal south.

Two large congregations were present at the Second M. E. church at East End yesterday, and the services were conducted by Secretary Sully, of the Young Men's Christian association, who delivered two interesting, practical and powerful sermons, which were much appreciated by the congregations in attendance.

There was a fine audience of ladies and gentlemen present at Association hall Sunday afternoon. Song service was a pleasing feature, under the direction of Professor Harper, who rendered "Gloria in Excelsis Deo." I. I. Primmon and Colonel Hill addressed the audience, and Secretary Sully made a few brief remarks. There is expected to be a rousing meeting next Sunday afternoon. You have an invitation.

down these evils. This city is not governed in a clean, legal manner. Wives and mothers have something to do in this work. We want to cleanse our fair city of all its evil, and we want the wives, mothers and sweethearts to see that the votes of the men are cast in the right way.

"Men, will you be with the bumper element Monday week, or will you be with the righteous?"

"That is the whole question in a nutshell."

"Some are saying the preachers are taking too much part in this fight; but, as an American citizen, I am trying as a Christian man to do my duty; to uphold the right and put down the wrong. A terrible picture is presented to us at this time. We have to meet it with staunch measures, and stand defiantly, and do our duty as men."

"Whose leadership will you follow next Monday? Men, may God, in his infinite wisdom, give you power to do that which is right."

"Stand up for your wives, your homes, your children, and as true citizens, do as you would in the sight of God." Vote for Charles F. Bough and clean government and the observance of law, and may God defend the right."

DR. TAGGART'S VIEWS.

There Is No Room to Halt as to Present Duty.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—You ask me for an article in reference to the citizen's duty in the present campaign for city officers. I am about to start from home and have not time to write an article such as I would like to do.

It seems to me that the issue between what we have had and which, if continued, we are assured will be worse, and that which has in it the promise of better things, is so squarely made that no one who desires the true good of our city has any room to halt or hesitate as to present duty.

There comes a time in the history of nations and communities, when the trumpet call of patriotism demands the obliteration of all party lines and the union of all true friends of order and good government. Such a time and such a condition of things prevails in our national congress when senators and representatives of all parties are rallying to the support of our president in upholding the honor of the nation. Such a time and such a call has come in the history of our city.

The issue is squarely joined between the selection of one of two men for the office of the mayor of our city. Whatever mistakes we may think have been made in the primaries which put these men in nomination, or in the after conference that has made certain the fact that one or the other will be the next mayor, it seems to me that now, rising above all party prejudice and overlooking all things that we could wish were otherwise in the canvass, the duty of the citizen who desires the moral, the social or even the true financial prosperity of our city is to seek by all honorable means the election of Charles F. Bough, and the defeat of the present mayor.

That this may be done is my earnest desire, and confident hope. It can and will be done if the citizens of East Liverpool do their full duty at the coming election.

J. C. TAGGART,

Pastor First U. P. Church.

REV. J. R. GREENE.

This Is Not a Conflict of Political Parties, but of Right and Wrong.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—Having followed carefully your editorial utterances, and noted fully the various communications published in your paper in regard to the present contest for the mayoralty of our city, I desire, through your columns, to express my unqualified approval and hearty co-operation with you in the cause of right and good government for this most enterprising and progressive city in the Ohio valley.

A time is upon us when the trumpet must give forth no uncertain sound, and when every lover of right and justice must cast aside all petty preferences and party predilections and stand forth manfully for the right, or be content to be numbered with the lawbreakers and those "who love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil." Let every Christian citizen, and every lover of our fair city come forward on April 4th and cast his ballot for Charles F. Bough, who is pledged to enforce ALL THE LAWS without partiality, and thus aid in recovering the good name our city has so nearly forfeited by the misrule and lawlessness of the present mayor. The statutes in the past, and which must be forever lost, should the saloon element be allowed to prevail at this time.

This is not a conflict of political parties, and not a single question of political party importance is involved in the issue. The fallacy of the old excuse, of supporting the party nominee in municipal affairs, no matter what his record, has long since been exposed, and certainly no law-abiding or God-fearing man can hope to clear his conscience from one wrong pledge or act by committing another act far more heinous. 'T would be out-Heroding Herod, and I have faith to believe that the better element of East Liverpool's citizens will stand forth nobly and uphold the right and consign the candidate of the saloons and gambling dens to the political oblivion he has so richly merited.

Very sincerely yours,

J. R. GREENE,

Pastor Second U. P. Church.

REV. S. B. SALMON

Leaves No Room to Doubt His Strong Position.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—In compliance with your request, and in favor of clean municipal government, I submit the following: The standard of citizenship in any city is declared most effectually in the manner in which the right of the elective franchise is utilized. The legal right to cast a ballot, untrammelled by any influence whatever, is undisputed. When local politics become a moral issue, then men of morals are found decidedly on the side of right, regardless of previous party affiliations. Conscience then, and always, should be the ruling factor in deciding how and for whom to vote. The power to consider moral issues and to reach just conclusions is not less potent in the citizens of East Liverpool than in citizens in general. Hence an opportunity to concentrate the moral forces of this city has been one long coveted. That coveted opportunity now, through the providence of God, is granted in the open fight for the position of mayor of our city. Charles F. Bough has declared himself for the reform of existing conditions, for the rigid enforcement of existing laws, which pertain most directly to the proper observance of the Sabbath, the suppression of illegal liquor selling and the advancement, along all lines, of municipal purity. Shall Charles F. Bough be the next mayor of East Liverpool? This depends upon the consciences and moral worth of those who cast their ballots on April 4th, 1898. If all the true men arise and do battle in love of home, freedsie, wife, children, young manhood and clean government, and consider a conscience void of offense to God and to self, as preferable to the plaudits of party leaders, the victory will be won, beyond the shadow of a doubt.

Voters, answer the following questions: Does the present mayor, with his standard, declarations and past practices and present intentions, meet with the approval of your better self? Is he an exemplary citizen? Can you point to him with pride as the chief magistrate of your city? If so, vote for him, and surely bring the power and condemnation of God upon your action and yourself. "Vengeance is mine. I will repay, saith the Lord." If you desire to do right and have a clean municipal government, vote for Charles F. Bough. Which is it? What is your desire? What will you do? Will you vote for party or for principle? God grant that conscience and Christian courage may prevail.

Rev. B. M. Carson.

The pastor of the African M. E. church, a man who, in the hands of God, has been a power for good in this city of East Liverpool, and who is respected and admired on every hand, said:

"I am in favor of the election of Charles F. Bough. I cannot support a man who favors illegal liquor selling or the violation of the laws and ordinances. Such conduct is directly in opposition to the gospel and the teaching of the Master. I am in favor of clean municipal government."

Reverend Reinartz.

The pastor of the German Evangelical Lutheran church gives his verdict in concise and telling form:

"I will support the man who enforces law and order, and who will do all in his power to avoid the desecration of the Sabbath day."

FATHER SMYTHE.

All honor to this fearless Catholic priest. He speaks whereof he knows when he asserts that "there has been no government in East Liverpool for the past two years." Father Smythe's information comes partly from personal observation and partly from parties in whom he has utter reliance. He has personally observed the desecration of the Sabbath by horse racing on Fifth street, even after the attention of the mayor and his subordinates had been called to the matter by the NEWS REVIEW, and he personally made complaint to an official of this city, and his complaint hit the mark and had the desired effect, as no more racing was done in that part of the city. He has full personal knowledge of the evidence of illegal liquor selling, while his informants have convinced him, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that houses of ill fame and gambling dens have been permitted to conduct their infamous resorts, in defiance of law and law-abiding citizens. He has no use for a mayor who permits such infamy, and gives his decision in terms which have the right ring. Father Smythe believes in law and order. He believes that the magistrate who fails to enforce the laws, as he has sworn he will do, is either incompetent or guilty, and in either case he should step down and out and no longer disgrace East Liverpool. The NEWS REVIEW, backed by all true citizens, men who love good government and truth and honor, warmly commends Father Smythe for his clean cut utterances in this crucial time. Success and prosperity dwell with him in his advocacy of the right, the pure and the true.

WITH CHARITY TO ALL.

The NEWS REVIEW is attempting to fight under the banner upon which is inscribed, "With malice toward none and charity for all." Mayor A. V. Gilbert is a personal acquaintance of Man-ager Palmer, and has been deemed a friend. We hold not a shadow of malice against the chief magistrate of East Liverpool. If the opportunity presented itself in private life to do him a good or an evil turn, the good would be granted unto him without a moment's hesitation. But A. V. Gilbert is not a private citizen. He is the chief magistrate of this city, which has entrusted to him the enforcement of existing laws and the observance of law and order. He has been "weighed in the balance and found wanting." As Father Smythe says, "there has been no government in East Liverpool for the past two years." A. V. Gilbert has surrounded himself with an evil element, a class which aims to set law and order at defiance, and which has determined to control this city for evil and evil practices, if not called to strict account by public sentiment and by public ballots. We do not believe that A. V. Gilbert was nominated by Republican ballots. We believe that he received his nomination at the hands of men who constitute the whisky ring and kindred evils—men who do not care for any party, but who make it the aim of their life to control through any or all parties, merely for the gratification of their own selfish and wicked desires; men who have not the interests of the city at heart, but whose motto is "rule or ruin." We believe it to be the bounden duty of every good citizen, Democrat, Republican, Populist or Prohibitionist, to call a halt on such infamy, and teach A. V. Gilbert and his followers that patience has ceased to be a virtue. Not only must the evil class and their chosen leader be defeated, but they must receive such an effectual and overwhelming defeat as to teach them that honest citizens and lovers of clean government will not be trifled with. This will take hard and earnest and careful and systematic campaigning. The whisky ring and its evil associates will make desperate battle. They will spend money freely and make peculiar and powerful appeals to the baser passions and appetites. But they can be met and overcome and conquered, if we but watch and fight and make honorable use of the SINEWS of war. Every man must be a soldier—a soldier in defense of home, hearth and clean government, and God will give the victory.

Let the women of East Liverpool rally to the call. They do not have the ballot; but they have wonderful power over the hand which casts the ballot. True womanhood of East Liverpool, rally in defense of the right. Organize, organize, organize. In organization and unity is strength. Organize in defense of your boys and your girls, as a wide open city means ruin to your children, body and soul, and A. V. Gilbert will run a WIDE OPEN city if elected.

Attractions at the Grand.

The Shea company will open at the Grand tonight in a "Man-of-Wars-Man." The house will be crowded, for play and players are very popular in this city.

G. G. Fornum and wife, representing Robert Downing, were in the city today arranging for that gentleman's appearance at the Grand in the "Gladiator" next Monday evening.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—George Matheny is today moving to Martins Ferry.

—C. H. Howe, of Akron, spent yesterday in the city visiting friends.

—Mrs. F. A. Leonard has returned from a lengthy stay in Cambridgeboro.

Ministerial Etiquette.

The Rev. D. W. Holt of the suburb of Wyoming, O., addressed the Baptist ministers of Cincinnati the other morning on the subject "Ministerial Etiquette." He said that ministers should never cross their legs while seated in a pew, and that they should not smoke tobacco in any form by ministers. He recommended that they take particular care with their toilets and their persons.—New York Sun.

KERR'S RESIGNATION!

He Absolutely Declines to Be a Candidate.

TRICKSTERS CANNOT USE HIM

John Kerr Is Not a Candidate For Mayor. He Cannot Be Made a Catpaw—He Is an Honorable Man and Clean Citizen and Means Just What He Says.

Fearing that my position in regard to the mayoralty question has been misunderstood, I desire to say to the citizens of East Liverpool that I am not a candidate for the office of mayor.

JOHN KERR.

The above is the plain and positive DECLARATION of Mr. John Kerr. He considered it his duty, in the interest of clean government and of good citizenship, to take this step, and so made his announcement to the citizens at large of East Liverpool. He made his first announcement after careful consideration, as a business man and a man possessed of decision of character, and he has not removed one iota from that decision. He received the committee which refused his declination very courteously, as becomes a good citizen and a Christian gentleman, but made that committee no promise that he would continue to be a candidate or make a canvass for the berth of the chief magistracy of this city. After very earnest consideration of the situation, in all its details, he firmly announces his unalterable intention not to be a candidate. The decision is like the man, as the belief is general that, had there been but two candidates in the field, himself and A. V. Gilbert, the citizens at large would have honored John Kerr with the position of mayor. John Kerr has sacrificed his chances, in the interest of clean government, and for the good of this city, and he deserves warm commendation at the hands of all good and true and conservative citizens, irrespective of party.

All honor to this fearless Catholic priest. He speaks whereof he knows when he asserts that "there has been no government in East Liverpool for the past two years." Father Smythe's information comes partly from personal observation and partly from parties in whom he has utter reliance. He has personally observed the desecration of the Sabbath by horse racing on Fifth street, even after the attention of the mayor and his subordinates had been called to the matter by the NEWS REVIEW, and he personally made complaint to an official of this city, and his complaint hit the mark and had the desired effect, as no more racing was done in that part of the city. He has full personal knowledge of the evidence of illegal liquor selling, while his informants have convinced him, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that houses of ill fame and gambling dens have been permitted to conduct their infamous resorts, in defiance of law and law-abiding citizens. He believes that the magistrate who permits such infamy, and gives his decision in terms which have the right ring. Father Smythe believes in law and order. He believes that the magistrate who fails to enforce the laws, as he has sworn he will do, is either incompetent or guilty, and in either case he should step down and out and no longer disgrace East Liverpool. The NEWS REVIEW, backed by all true citizens, men who love good government and truth and honor, warmly commends Father Smythe for his clean cut utterances in this crucial time. Success and prosperity dwell with him in his advocacy of the right, the pure and the true.

WITH CHARITY TO ALL.

The NEWS REVIEW is attempting to fight under the banner upon which is inscribed, "With malice toward none and charity for all." Mayor A. V. Gilbert is a personal acquaintance of Manager Palmer, and has been deemed a friend. We hold not a shadow of malice against the chief magistrate of East Liverpool. If the opportunity presented itself in private life to do him a good or an evil turn, the good would be granted unto him without a moment's hesitation. But A. V. Gilbert is not a private citizen. He is the chief magistrate of this city, which has entrusted to him the enforcement of existing laws and the observance of law and order. He has been "weighed in the balance and found wanting." As Father Smythe says, "there has been no government in East Liverpool for the past two years." A. V. Gilbert has surrounded himself with an evil element, a class which aims to set law and order at defiance, and which has determined to control this city for evil and evil practices, if not called to strict account by public sentiment and by public ballots. We do not believe that A. V. Gilbert was nominated by Republican ballots. We believe that he received his nomination at the hands of men who constitute the whisky ring and kindred evils—men who do not care for any party, but who make it the aim of their life to control through any or all parties, merely for the gratification of their own selfish and wicked desires; men who have not the interests of the city at heart, but whose motto is "rule or ruin." We believe it to be the bounden duty of every good citizen, Democrat, Republican, Populist or Prohibitionist, to call a halt on such infamy, and teach A. V. Gilbert and his followers that patience has ceased to be a virtue. Not only must the evil class and their chosen leader be defeated, but they must receive such an effectual and overwhelming defeat as to teach them that honest citizens and lovers of clean government will not be trifled with. This will take hard and earnest and careful and systematic campaigning. The whisky ring and its evil associates will make desperate battle. They will spend money freely and make peculiar and powerful appeals to the baser passions and appetites. But they can be met and overcome and conquered, if we but watch and fight and make honorable use of the SINEWS of war. Every man must be a soldier—a soldier in defense of home, hearth and clean government, and God will give the victory.

Let the women of East Liverpool rally to the call. They do not have the ballot; but they have wonderful power over the hand which casts the ballot. True womanhood of East Liverpool, rally in defense of the right. Organize, organize, organize. In organization and unity is strength. Organize in defense of your boys and your girls, as a wide open city means ruin to your children, body and soul, and A. V. Gilbert will run a WIDE OPEN city if elected.

The Shea company will open at the Grand tonight in a "Man-of-Wars-Man." The house will be crowded, for play and players are very popular in this city.

G. G. Fornum and wife, representing Robert Downing, were in the city today arranging for that gentleman's appearance at the Grand in the "Gladiator" next Monday evening.

He said that ministers should never cross their legs while seated in tobacco in any form by ministers. ## KERR'S RESIGNATION!

He Absolutely Declines to Be a Candidate.

TRICKSTERS CANNOT USE HIM

John Kerr is Not a Candidate For Mayor. He Cannot Be Made a Catapult. He is an Honorable Man and Clean Citizen and Means Just What He Says.

Fearing that my position in regard to the mayoralty question has been misunderstood, I desire to say to the citizens of East Liverpool that I am not a candidate for the office of mayor.

JOHN KERR.

The above is the plain and positive DECLARATION of Mr. John Kerr. He considered it his duty, in the interest of clean government and of good citizenship, to take this step, and so made his announcement to the citizens at large of East Liverpool. He made his first announcement after careful consideration, as a business man and a man possessed of decision of character, and he has not removed one iota from that decision. He received the committee which refused his declination very courteously, as becomes a good citizen and a Christian gentleman, but made that committee no promise that he would continue to be a candidate or make a canvass for the berth of the chief magistracy of this city. After very earnest consideration of the situation, in all its details, he firmly announces his unalterable intention not to be a candidate. The decision is like the man, as the belief is general that, had there been but two candidates in the field, himself and A. V. Gilbert, the citizens at large would have honored John Kerr with the position of mayor. John Kerr has sacrificed his chances, in the interest of clean government, and for the good of this city, and he deserves warm commendation at the hands of all good and true and conservative citizens, irrespective of party.

HARRY PALMER.

Found a Few Kegs.

A crowd of young boys digging for rats on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road near the flint mill, yesterday afternoon, unearthed four kegs of beer. Several men passing at the time told the boys they belonged to them and took two to Walker and one to the Virginia side. The property was stolen a few nights ago.
